

SEES TAX VETO DEFEAT IF GOP DECREASES CUT

Democratic Leader Declares There Would Be Enough Votes To Override.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Rep. (D-N.C.) told the house today that he believes a "moderate" overall tax cut, excluding an excess profits levy, can be made at this time.

The President wants to relieve the tax burdens of $3,000,000 but make up the revenue by a new excess profits tax of that size on corporations.

Mr. Dickey, who managed tax legislation when Democrats controlled Congress, said he believes a "moderate" overall tax cut, excluding an excess profits levy, can be made at this time.

NEW SCHOOL HEAD TAKES OVER DUTIES

Supt. Dickey To Meet with Board Tonight.

Lester L. Dickey, former superintendent of the public schools at Painesville, O., today took over his duties as head of the Marion public school system. He succeeds Edward E. Holt, who left yesterday to become superintendent of the Springfield schools.

Following association with the Painesville schools as athletic coach, teacher, principal and for the last four years as superintendent, Mr. Dickey comes to Marion under a four and one-half year contract as superintendent.

He will meet with the board of education tonight at 7:30 in the school administration building.

While he and his family have many pleasant associations and warm friendships in Painesville, they are anticipating their coming to Marion with a great deal of pleasure.

Mr. Dickey said today, "We have heard a great deal about the fine schools, school patrons and residents of Marion and are looking forward to meeting and cooperating with them in every way."

Mrs. Dickey and their two children, David Alan and Anne Louise, will join Mr. Dickey here as soon as housing facilities can be arranged.

RUSSIA FILES NEW PROTESTS AGAINST U.S.

4th Complaint in Less Than Week, Reported by Moscow Radio.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Russia has filed two more complaints against the United States, the Moscow radio reported today. That makes four unless less than a week.

The latest protests, the broadcasts said, concern the flights of American bombers over Soviet shipping in Japanese waters and the activities of the American military mission in Iran.

The bomber flights, the radio said, infringed upon the freedom of merchant shipping, while the activities of the U. S. military mission in Iran are called threats to the Soviet frontier. The Russians want both activities stopped, the broadcast said.

The first two protests, announced last week, complained about the projected reopening of the Melana airfield in North Africa and about the presence of U. S. warships in Italian ports. The Russians said both those things were violations of the Italian peace treaty.

(Washington dispatches last night said those protests would be rejected sometime this week.)

Protest Plane Flights

Now the Russian ministry of foreign affairs has demanded American bombers stop flying over and inspecting Soviet shipping in the Yellow sea and the Sea of Japan, the Moscow radio said.

The protest note said the bombers carried low and sometimes lived on Russian ships and such actions constituted "infringements upon the freedom of merchant shipping."

The broadcast, quoting a Tass dispatch, said Russia sent a note to U. S. Ambassador Walter B. Smith last Friday demanding necessary instructions be issued to stop the actions, which produced "legitimate resentment on the part of crews and passengers of Soviet steamers."

The broadcast called the flights "rude attempts of the American authorities at establishing their control of shipping in the Yellow sea and the Sea of Japan, far beyond their territorial waters."

It said the flights could be regarded only as "manifestations" of their unwillingness to reckon with the legitimate interests of the merchant shipping of other countries.

Protest in Iran

Saturday, a later Moscow broadcast said Soviet Ambassador Ivanek Sadezhkov handed to the Iranian government in Tehran a note asserting activities of the American military mission in Iran constitute a threat to the Russian frontier, which adjoins Iran to the north.

The note, according to a Pravda dispatch from Tehran, said American officers were directing the erection of fortifications along the border and that American advisers were directing the building of airfields there.

The dispatch declared that tours by American advisers of border districts, "intended for the purpose of inspecting Iranian army units, were 'in actual fact' for the purpose of making photo-

"I'll See You March 20," Says Groundhog As He Holes in After Brief Stay in Sunshine

Marion Q. Groundhog, grizzled weather prophet, emerged today from his subterranean suite at the Hotel Cornfield, just outside Marion, and rubbing his paws together in a speculative manner said, "To see or not to see, that is the question. By the way, what's the latest from Punxsutawney?"

Punxsutawney, Pa., is the capital of the groundhog world.

Marion Q. then dropped down on all fours and in a very groundhog-like manner began his annual circuit, which in the best groundhog society is performed in a clockwise direction. Custom has decreed this as traditional ever since the first groundhog took unto himself some ground.

Upon completion of his circle Marion arose and in a sad and mournful voice proclaimed, "I see a good fellow by playing second fiddle to a lowly marmot of the woodchuck species, namely the groundhog."

Weatherman Is Considerate

Even if the meteorologist is not amenable to the observance of groundhog day, he generally is content to keep his tongue in his cheek and allow other scientists as well as wags to disparage, if they wish, the peculiar genius of the woodchuck.

It is noteworthy, however, that the weatherman at least acknowledges his one-day competition, whereas most of the encyclopedias

BLAME FIRES ON WEATHER

Overheated Furnace Causes Loss of Home Near Iberia; Gas Supply Still Short.

With colder weather forecast for tonight following a brief rise from the zero zone, today's news included reports of three fires in Marion and vicinity over the weekend which were blamed on the continued cold weather.

An overheated furnace started a fire which destroyed the home of R. C. Thatcher, a mile south of Iberia, Sunday afternoon with a loss estimated at $10,000. Two fires resulting from weather conditions occurred in Marion with only slight damage.

The weather furnished good coasting conditions for youngsters and for that reason was responsible for the injury of William Porter Lyons Jr., 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lyons of near Mt. Gilead. He suffered a fractured ankle Sunday afternoon when he fell while sled-riding. He was admitted to City hospital for treatment and today his condition was reported to be "fairly good."

Gas Situation Unchanged

A telephone report received this morning from Mansfield by C. E. Schriest, Marion manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., indicated no change in the gas situation to date. Housewives in gas heated homes were urged by the company to postpone today's washing. House temperatures should not exceed 68 degrees while business houses and bars are asked to continue at the "just above freezing" temperature as they did last week. Early closing of taverns and liquor stores is still essential in Marion.

Leaders in Many Fields Gather For Tribute To Orville Wright

DAYTON, O., Feb. 2.—Men of war and of peace gathered today in the cradle of aviation to bury Orville Wright, co-inventor of the airplane.

Funeral services for the 70-year-old pioneer aviator were held at 2:30 p. m. in the First Baptist church. Rev. Dr. Charles L. Seasholes officiated.

Wright died of a lung congestion and heart ailment Friday night.

The tiny man, who saw his dream of flying through the skies become a reality, was laid beside his older brother, Wilbur, in Woodland cemetery.

The two brothers founded a new era—the air age—Dec. 17, 1903, when they flew a 12-second, 120 foot flight over the sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C.

Orville Wright lived, died most of his work in aviation, and died in this Ohio industrial city.

After Wilbur's death in 1912, Orville lived here in virtual retirement.

As Wright was laid to rest, giant planes of nearby Wright and Patterson fields, U. S. air force research centers, draped through the sky in final tribute to the tiny little man who had made their possible.

Military men and civilians were listed among the 50 honorary pallbearers. They included:

Gen. Carl Spaatz, AAF commander; Vice Adm. John D. Price, deputy chief, naval operations; Gen. H. H. (Hap) Arnold, retired AAF wartime chief; Gen. J. T. McNamery, commander, air materiel command, Wright field; Adm. Ernest King, retired wartime naval commander-in-chief; Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commander of combined ground, water, and air forces in Alaska;

Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, AAF staff, Washington, D. C.; Gen. Frank P. Lahm, retired of Mansfield, O.; Gen. William E. Gillmore, retired, former Wright field official; Rear Adm. F. W. Pennoyer, Navy liaison officer at Wright field; Rear Adm. T. J. Lonnquest, navy member, national advisory commission on aeronautics; Gen. T. D. Milling, former air force officer and lifelong friend of Orville Wright; B.

MAPS STRONG U.S. DEFENSE

Forrestal To Bare Protection Plan Against A-Bombs, Germ Warfare.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Defense Secretary James Forrestal plans to announce soon a plan for a permanent civilian defense system to protect the nation against atomic bombs, germ warfare and guided missiles.

Forrestal, who said the plan is the result of an exhaustive study of civilian defense problems by a board of five generals headed by Gen. Harold R. Bull.

Bull's report received the elegant scrutiny by the Army, Navy and Air Force. It was written with the advice of some of the nation's top industrial, civic and state leaders.

U. S. A. Fat Target

The United States, "as the center of the world's industrial power, would be the fattest target for any aggressor nation bent on world domination. Military leaders say the nation must be prepared not only for atom bombings, but attempts to poison water, crops and the population with bacteriological weapons.

The report is expected to attack such knotty problems as whether American industry should be dispersed to reduce bomb damage in event of war. Such a move would cost billions, the experts say.

Other problems involved include how to camouflage cities, effective use of radar countermeasures; prevention of industrial sabotage; damage and fire control of industries; evacuation of civilian injured, and air alerts.

The civil defense measures are expected to be integrated into the already existing pattern of the National Guard and Organized Reserve Corps.

Patterned After British

The counter-measures probably will be patterned after those used by the British and Germans. The program undoubtedly will

ARMSTRONG ENTERS STATE OFFICE RACE

Marion County Man Candidate for Treasurer.

Harry V. Armstrong of LaRue announced today that he is a candidate for nomination for state treasurer on the Democratic ticket. His declarations of candidacy were to be filed today in Columbus.

Mr. Armstrong, a district circulation manager for the Columbus Citizen, has been a resident of LaRue the last nine years. Before that he was a resident of Toledo and he served eight years in the office of the Lucas county treasurer. He is a graduate of Denison university and a certified public accountant.

He is a veteran of World War I. He was the Democratic nominee for state treasurer in 1944.

FALLING PLANE KILLS BOY ON SKATING POND

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTAINE, O., Feb. 2.—Eleven-year-old Donald Penrod was dead today, victim of a rented plane that crashed into an Indian lake skating party yesterday.

Donald was in a group of 14 children and three adult skaters when a light monoplane nosedived off high tension wires, plunging into their midst. The others were unhurt.

State Highway Patrolman R. C. Wolfson identified the pilot as Ned Buchenrot, 20, a student pilot of nearby Huntsville. Buchenrot suffered only minor bruises and cuts on his neck and chin.

Dr. A. J. McCracken, Logan county recorder, pronounced Donald dead of a blow behind his right ear, "probably by the propeller."

Wolfson quoted Buchenrot as saying the right wing tip of his rented plane struck the "wires" plunged to the ice and skidded into the waters. The skaters were on a 60-foot square of snow-cleared ice.

Wolfson said Buchenrot rented the 65 horsepower ship from Hareport, Inc., of Bellefontaine.

The victim was the son of Mr. Mr. and Mrs. James Penrod of near Hartselle.

Glafogus Cheers Arrival Of "Yankee Friend Ship"

By The Associated Press

GLASGOW, Feb. 2.—Flags were flying, a pipe band playing, and Sir Harry Lauder sang today at the official reception for the "Yankee Friend Ship" and its $1,250,000 cargo for the needy of Glasgow from the people of New England.

The docks were crowded for the ceremony. W. N. Bump, director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, greeted officials on board the ship.

Tom Johnston, chairman of the Scottish Warst board, accepted the gifts as the spontaneous offer from a "great American city to a temporarily embarrassed Scotland."

NEHRU STAKES RULE ON END OF DISORDERS

Says Government Will Stand or Fall on Issue of Peace.

NEW DELHI, Feb. 2.—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru staked the survival of his government today on the issue of restoring peace, for which Mohandas K. Gandhi was killed.

In swift implementation of Nehru's stand, the home ministry issued a communique abolishing private armies and "any organization preaching violence or communal hatred."

Gandhi's ashes were prepared for committal to the Ganges, a river his Hindu followers consider sacred. His body was cremated on a huge sandalwood pyre by the waters of the Jamuna river Saturday. After his youngest son, by Hindu rite, had lit the fire, Gandhi, 78, was assassinated en route to a prayer meeting. His assailant was held incommunicado.

Crowds in Bombay angered by Gandhi's death, tried to burn the house of a member of the militant Mahasabha (Greater Hindu organization). They attempted to stop traffic and close shops. They kept all but a few workers from their jobs.

Marked by Gunmen

Home Minister Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel said he, Nehru and Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the education minister, all had been marked for assassination because they advocated peace with the Muslims, as did Gandhi. The gang accused of plotting the deaths was hunted.

The home ministry said India and the princely state of Hyderabad, ruled by Muslims, had agreed to work in close harmony to solve the problems which were assuming serious proportions. Small border riots had broken out.

Nehru told the constituent assembly his government would stand or fall on the issue of restoring peace.

"If we don't do that we are not worth being in this government; certainly not of being his (Mohandas K. Gandhi's) followers or even saying words of praise for this great soul," Nehru said.

"I have a sense of utter shame as an individual and as the head of this government that we should have failed to protect the greatest treasure we possess."

On the banks of the Jamuna, meanwhile, the ashes of the assassinated Gandhi were reverently collected and prepared for scattering on waters sacred to orthodox Hindus.

Officials of the Indian union hunted for a gang accused of plotting to send three high officials of the dominion to their deaths with Gandhi.

Nehru Near Tears

Nehru, who had just returned from the services beside the Jamuna, had to pause at times as he spoke to the assembly at a memorial service for Gandhi. He was barely able to control his tears.

"Gandhi's assassination is not the isolated act of a madman," he told the hushed assembly, which is jointly the constitution-writing and legislative branch of the new Indian government.

"It is the result of a certain atmosphere of violence and hatred that has prevailed in the country

YOUNG CASE SET FOR TRIAL FEB. 24

Decision on Change of Venue Motion Is Continued.

The first degree murder trial of Edwin D. Young has been scheduled for Tuesday Feb. 24. A motion for a change of venue heard at 1 p. m. today in common pleas court was continued by Judge Paul D. Smith. Paul D. Michel defense attorney asked that disposition of the motion be passed at this time, retaining the right of the defendant to be heard in request for a change in venue at the time of impaneling a jury. Judge Smith granted continuance of the motion with the provision that if a jury is impaneled the motion is thereby overruled. County Prosecutor James E. Reed offered no objection to the request of Attorney Michel. Judge Smith in adjourning the brief hearing called for a special venire of 75 names from which to draw the jury.

Armour Branch Plant Damaged by Explosion

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2—An explosion partially wrecked the three-story branch meat packing plant of Armour & Co. today, and five employees suffered burns. Most seriously burned were Edward Smith of Pataskala and Mary Baldwin of Columbus, burned about the face and hands. The blast, which employees tentatively attributed to ammonia or gas fumes, occurred in the basement. Two women in the boiler section of the basement escaped injury.

FRENCH SKIERS FIND 2 CRASH VICTIMS

DIGNE, FRANCE, Feb. 2—French skiers found today the bodies of Mrs. Shirley G. Martin of Princeton, N. C., and her year old son Benjamin. They were killed with ten others Tuesday when a U. S. Army C-47 transport crashed in the French Alps. Their bodies were in the snow near the wreckage. Two other women, four more children and 13 army fliers were killed in crashes of the transport and a Flying Fortress which was hunting for it. The bodies of 16 of the victims were flown to Frankfurt this morning for removal to the United States. The women and children were dependents of U. S. troops in the Trieste occupation zone.

HUNGARY TO TRY U.S. WOMAN FOR SPYING

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, Feb. 2—Miss Elizabeth Proszl-Pallos, American citizen of Pittsburgh, will go on trial tomorrow charged with espionage. Former socialist leader Karoly Peyer and 12 others will be tried by the people's court of justice in the same case. Peyer, who escaped to London a few weeks ago, will be tried in absentia. Miss Proszl-Pallos, of American Hungarian parentage, was a secretary in The Associated Press bureau at Budapest for three months. She was arrested last Oct. 27. Soon afterwards, the Hungarian government expelled Jacky Guinn, AP correspondent. The indictment said the "accused were in connection with U. S. Army Capt. McClellens, an American journalist Jack Guinn and a member of the civil information corps." The bill alleged James Cargat, first secretary of the U. S. Legation, took part in the "negotiations." Guinn, when expelled, said his only activities in Hungary were those necessary to carry out his duties as a news man.

LIBERTY SHIP ADRIFT OFF CAROLINA COAST

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 2—The Liberty ship John F. Carlisle, carrying a crew of five, drifted helplessly off the North Carolina coast today, awaiting the arrival of the Coast Guard cutter Mendota, dispatched to her assistance from nearby Wilmington. Coast Guard headquarters here said the Mendota probably would reach the Carlisle early this morning. The Carlisle, reported last night as "in a sinking condition," began drifting Saturday night when she broke loose from the tug P. F. Martin after a towline parted during heavy weather.

NIEMOELLER HITS U.S. RULE IN HESSE

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, Feb. 2—Members of the Evangelical church in the American zone state of Hesse have been urged in a pastoral letter to resist denazification procedure. The letter, read in Evangelical churches yesterday, said "a new seed of hatred" has grown from the law. At the same time it said National Socialism (Nazism) persists despite the "allies' efforts to root it out. The church administration, which issued the letter, is headed by the Rev. Martha Niemoeller, famed wartime prisoner of the Nazis. He was elected bishop of the Hesse union of Evangelical churches last October. The synod claims 1,400,000 members. "We entreat you—do not volunteer to work for a law from which only wrong comes," the letter said. "Do not work as complainants or witnesses." The letter even urged judges and the staffs of the denazification courts to obstruct denazification procedure "unless they are quite sure of serving reconciliation with their work."

Light Rain Dampens Parched California

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2—Light, widely scattered drizzles dampened slightly some sections of parched California today but weather forecasters held no hope that appreciable rains would follow. Light showers, perhaps just a trace, were forecast for the San Joaquin valley, which has had no precipitation for 45 days. Parts of southern California reported a drought. California's worst drought in 70 years threatened heavy crop losses. In ancient Babylon letters were written on the tablets and enclosed in baked clay envelopes.

YOUTH UNION SERVICE HELD

300 Attend Concluding Program of Week's Observance in Marion.

More than 300 attended the union service, which marked the climax of national youth week in Marion, at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday night. Young people from various churches of the city took part. The speaker was Ray Fenner of Columbus, a student at Ohio State university and a delegate to the World Christian Youth conference which was held last summer at Oslo, Norway. His subject was "If Youth Will Listen." The service was held in the church's chapel. At the close of the service, a meditation was given by Richard A. Howard of Marion, president of the Ohio Christian Youth council, with other members of the Marion Christian Youth Movement, organization sponsoring the Youth week meetings, taking part. The challenge which Mr. Fenner made was for young people to deny themselves, to seek something more than only frivolous pleasures, and to "begin to dare" to make Christ the Lord of their lives and of the world. For the meditation, lights of the auditorium were put out and a spotlight was shone on a cross at the altar. Mr. Howard reviewed the events of Youth week in Marion, and spoke of the challenge to all young people symbolized by the cross. A group of young people, including Larry Russell, Betty West, J. P. Menzer, Ruth Schertzer, Guy Stoner Jr. and Sylvia Frew, knelt at the altar in prayer while a recording of organ music and chimes was played. Placed at the cross to stand before it was a large question mark, symbolic of the query: "What will you do with Him? Will you make Christ, Lord?" At the beginning of the service, organ prelude was played by Mrs. J. W. Baker, church organist. Congregational singing of hymns was led by L. G. Jones, public school music supervisor. Miss Jean Latimore gave the call to worship and led in the Lord's prayer. Responsive reading was led by Miss Virginia Howard, and Rev. R. W. Faulkner, host pastor, was in charge of an offering. Proceeds of the offering were designated in part for use in promoting the Silver Street community center project of M.C.Y.M. Prayer was offered by James Rea, M.C.Y.M. president. The Harding High school capella choir sang three numbers. Rev. Emil C. Klutey, ministerial advisor of M.C.Y.M., pronounced the benediction, followed by a choral benediction by the capella choir. Young people of the various cooperating churches acted as ushers, headed by Rudi Rech who was assisted by J. W. Baker of the host church.

CONDITION IMPROVING

The condition of Rev. S. M. Firestone of Marengo, injured in a traffic accident in Chicago in December, is improving rapidly, according to a report from Wesley Memorial hospital there, quoted today in a news release by The Associated Press. It was stated, however, that it is still undecided when he may be released. He was injured in the automobile accident Dec. 16 which took the life of Mrs. Firestone. When the accident occurred, Rev. and Mrs. Firestone were enroute to meet a son from Appleton, Wis., and his family, to bring them to Marengo for the holidays.

U. S. Says Visit In Accord with Custom

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2—The United States rejected outright today Russia's protest against the visit of American warships to Italian ports. A state department note said the Italian government granted advance permission for each such visit. It said the calls were "in strict accord with the comity of nations." "It is customary for sovereign states to grant the privileges of visits to naval vessels and personnel of friendly foreign powers," the note said. Russia charged in a note delivered Wednesday by Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin that the presence of American warships in Italian ports violated the new peace treaty with Italy which required withdrawal of all allied armed forces by last Dec. 15.

EXPLOSION WRECKS JERUSALEM PAPER

JERUSALEM, Feb. 2—Police said today they were still unable to fix the blame for a bomb blast which wrecked the Palestine Post last night, injured at least 20 persons and touched off an $800,000 fire. One Arab source said Arabs did it. Other informants blamed Jewish extremists, who have threatened the pro-Zionist, English-language daily newspaper because of its moderate stand on Jewish defense. Still other sources blamed Britons known for their anti-Jewish sentiments. Down-town Jerusalem, Zion Square and Ben Yehuda street were littered with broken glass from windows shattered as far as 1,000 yards from the site of the blast.

3 MILLION GERMANS TO STRIKE TONIGHT

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 2—Nearly 3,000,000 German workers will strike at midnight tonight in the biggest mass demonstration yet against shrinking food rations. Labor leaders reported increasing Communist efforts to foment mass unrest throughout the food-short British and American zones. The 24-hour protest strikes beginning tonight were called in a large area stretching from Hamburg to Stuttgart. About 1,500,000 white collar workers in the British zone will leave their job for a day in support of their demands for the same food rations allotted so-called heavy workers.

Galion Church Holds Dedication Programs

GALION — Two programs at Trinity Lutheran church, Sunday, one during the morning worship hour and another at 2 p. m., dedicated a new organ and Maas chimes.

The organ was dedicated in memory of Ernest Helfrich, and the chimes in honor of the service men of Trinity church.

During the morning service, Rev. Henry Young, pastor of the church, spoke on "The Lost Chord," and the choir, directed by Ted Rohl, sang two numbers at which time dedication of the organ and chimes took place.

At 2 p. m., Miss Dorothy Plack of First Methodist church, guest organist, presented a recital. Numbers included compositions of Silvert, Nevin, Handel, Massenet, Hummer, Van Denman Thompson, and Scotland Clark.

Your Good Health

Another Use for Thiouracil

The way in which medical science is able to extend the usefulness of the new drugs which this era of intense chemical research has given it is often amazing. For instance, several years ago a drug known as thiouracil was discovered. Its first use was in the treatment of toxic goiter, a condition in which the thyroid gland forms excessive amounts of its secretion.

More recently, thiouracil has been found effective in the treatment of angina pectoris, a disorder in which spasm of the arteries, which provide the heart muscle with blood, momentarily cuts off this supply, causing severe attacks of pain over the heart. These attacks are so agonizing that for the time being the patient must stop whatever he is doing, and he frequently feels great weakness afterwards.

It is thought that thiouracil is beneficial in this condition because it lessens the sensitivity of the heart to adrenalin, a powerful heart stimulant, manufactured by the adrenal glands located over the kidney. Thiouracil also lessens the work of the heart by lowering the basal metabolism rate, or the speed with which the body's various chemical activities are carried on.

Dr. Solomon Ben-Asher has treated 29 patients with thiouracil. The patients ranged in age from 42 to 60 years, while the angina had been present for periods of eight months to nine years.

The patients were given the preparation by mouth, daily, until improvement was noted. After two to three weeks the dose was reduced. From 65 per cent to 70 per cent of the patients treated in this way showed definite improvement after an average of about three weeks of treatment, and this improvement was maintained over a period of from five to sixteen months after the use of the drug was discontinued. The average duration of treatment was about five months.

Patients receiving thiouracil showed a marked drop in their basal metabolic rate, though the amount of decrease varied widely from patient to patient. Strangely enough, however, the degree of the fall did not always correspond with the relief of the anginal symptoms—that is, a patient whose metabolic rate was slowed only moderately seemed sometimes to benefit as much as one whose rate fell too far below normal.

When a patient has an excessive thyroid secretion there is a lessening in the amount of the substance known as cholesterol in the blood. With the thiouracil, the amount of cholesterol in the blood increased, but the amount of the increase, also did not correspond with the improvement in the symptoms. This increase in cholesterol means lowering of the thyroid activity. The patients gained weight, but there was no effect on the blood pressure.

Of course, the thiouracil must be given with care because of reactions which may occur, such as a lessening of the number of white cells in the blood.

Further studies of this substance in the treatment of angina pectoris would appear to be worth while in view of the very promising and hopeful results already obtained.

SALES RUN HIGH AT ASHLEY LAMB POOL

A total of 752 sheep and lambs were consigned through the Ashley Lamb Pool Thursday by 49 farmers in the Delaware-Marion county area, Jesse Faust, president of the improvement association, said today.

The number of consignors of double blue lambs is increasing with Ted McClureman, Morrow county, having 21 in the double blue class. Stafford and Rula had 17 double blue and Howard McClanahan had 13 in the double blue class. Both of these consignors are also from Morrow county. Other double blue consignors were Wallace Beckel, Waldo, 2; Wesley Cooner, Ashley, 3; Joe Miller, Waldo, 4; and Lowell Kramer, Marion, 6 head.

Of the total lambs consigned $39 were wool and 213 were clipped. The double blue wool lambs sold for $28.50, blue wool lambs sold for $25.50, blue $25.25, red $24.25, yellow $22.00. The blue clipped lambs sold for $24.00, red for $22.50 and yellow for $21.50.

The largest number of lambs at any pool so far this season were consigned at the January 8 pool when a final total of 1,113 head were handled. A total of 8,209 head of sheep have been graded through the Ashley pool in the 11 pools held since last August.

There are four more pools to go in this season. The next will be on Feb. 19. Pools following that will be held on March 11, April 1 and the final on April 22.

infections, such as tuberculosis or low grade infections in the sinuses. It frequently occurs when there is excessive secretion from the thyroid gland—as is present in toxic goiter. It is suggested that you have an examination by your physician in order to ascertain what condition is present before any treatment can be suggested.

First To Fly

ORVILLE WRIGHT, who died Friday, was of that band of resourceful, adventurous mechanical experimenters who gave America its industrial impetus early in this century.

He and his brother, Wilbur, added the third dimension to travel—and military tactics. Like Edison and Ford and other pioneers of those days, Orville had a comparatively brief formal education, but his native skill, wit and common sense made up for that lack.

Like his brother a quiet, peace-loving man,
Orville was appalled at the frightening juggernauts which were the literal descendants of the first frail Kitty Hawk plane. But if the Wrights suffered qualms over having given the world a lethal weapon, those qualms were unjustified.
The science of aerodynamics had progressed to the point where invention of the airplane was but a matter of time.

The Wrights gave the world a machine that is making the whole world as closely-knit as a neighborhood. Only when men learn to live like friendly neighbors will the full benefits of their invention be realized.

For the World's Children

FEBRUARY has been dedicated to an appeal for the world's needy children by the 37 member nations of the international children's emergency fund. This United Nations affiliate will endeavor to raise $60,000,000 throughout the world during the month for food, medicine, clothing and restoration of welfare programs in war-ravaged lands.

In the United States, 25 voluntary agencies will present the appeal with the slogan, "Let us dedicate February to the children of the world."
Similar slogans have been adopted in other lands, and the appeal will mark the first worldwide effort to be carried out through a UN agency. Even India, with its own staggering problems, has promised a contribution.

The campaign represents an attempt to save the lives of millions of sick and undernourished children in areas devastated by war. The drive will be based on an appeal for one day's pay from each contribution. When the appeal reaches individual Americans later in the month, it deserves their earnest consideration.

Letting the People Know

THERE'S worry in Washington because the story of European aid doesn't seem to be getting across to the people. Some have accused the press, but others have admitted that the subject is so complex and tough it can't be reduced to clear-cut issues. They think the press is doing the best it can within the limitations of its readers' ability to understand a complex problem.

As far as the press is concerned, it's not only ability to understand a complex problem that's involved but willingness to try. Even when the press succeeds in doing a workmanlike job on this kind of a subject, there's still the question of persuading readers to take advantage of it.

Keeping the channels of communication clear, which is a technical problem of writing and editing, isn't enough unless alert and thoughtful readers are unwilling to use what they have.

European aid is but one of many subjects so difficult to follow that newspapermen who try to explain them wonder with good reason whether the game is worth the candle. They feel that it is, themselves, yet must doubt that the bulk of newspaper readers share their feeling.

For example, they doubt that most readers are taking the trouble to understand the story of the United Nations. Closer at home are such subjects as the Taft-Hartley act, grievously misunderstood and, worse yet, misrepresented by its opponents; reciprocal trade agreements, always monetary policy; taxation; inflation—all vital to the public, yet so complex that even the best-written stories about them are likely to be skipped by readers who don't want to think or, as they say, "too busy with other matters."

The citizens of a republic have a responsibility for making their own decision. That is the basis of popular government. It is why the freedom of speech and press were guaranteed in the Bill of Rights. There can be no liberty unless the people take an active interest in their own problems.

There is no way to make them take an active interest. The agencies of communication cannot do the job alone. The people must be willing to work hard enough within the privileges of freedom to preserve it. There has been no dearth of information about European aid, only a dearth of willingness to understand and apply it to the making of an intelligent decision.

Did You Know
Passenger ships are often built relatively unstable so that long gentle rolls promote passenger comfort, but naval architects find such ships hard to adapt to use as fighting ships because naval action presupposes some damage and a ship safe enough for civilian use might capsize when partially flooded.

Hawaii fell below peacetime volume of sugar production during the war because her land and manpower was used for military purposes.

Paraguay, with 1,162,040 people, has the smallest population among South American republics.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Decision on Communist Has Dangerous Implications.

It is interesting to note that the heart of the decision, as stated by Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, acting commissioner of education in the state of New York, is that the Communist Party is a threat to the security of the state of New York.

Thorpe was elected in 1931 on the ground that he was a Communist. The decision held that it was not actually proved that he was a member of the party. This follows the logic of the judicial decision of Judge Fuld, who held that it is a libel per se to call a man a Communist unless such membership can be proved. As the membership rolls of the Communist party are secret and as some of the principal and most effectively intelligent advocates of Communism in this country never disclose themselves as members and even deny it, it is impossible, in many important instances, to prove the truth in judicial terms.

This is the heart of the Wilson decision: "Until such time as the legislature has outlawed this party, a board of education would be without legal justification in dismissing a teacher because of membership. This does not mean, of course, that a teacher may with impunity, either through his teachings or expressions of opinion, advocate any subversive doctrine."

What is a subversive doctrine and how can anyone tell whether a teacher is teaching it? Let me put it this way: Marxism holds that man is a product of his environment and is conditioned by the way he earns a living. In a word, no moral criteria govern

I am sure that neither Judge Fuld nor Commissioner Wilson have even estimated the dangers of their decisions. Both assumed the same legalistic position, namely, that the Communist party is a legal organization in the state of New York and therefore any man has a legal right to be a Communist and that if a man says he is not one, that is sufficient evidence that he is not one, unless proved otherwise by usually unobtainable evidence.

These learned gentlemen apparently have no understanding of the revolution in ideas and life which is occurring throughout the world.

I would ask them to read Hal Leiman's "Russia's Europe." Leiman went to Europe for "PM" and "The Nation"—which marked him pretty well of center—but what he saw in Greece, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia apparently convinced him that "Soviet policy everywhere (with the tentative exception of Czechoslovakia) aimed at spoliation rather than cooperation, the fortifying of the Soviet. Economic and military arsenal rather than the strengthening of the subject peoples."

His book is the record of stomping upon human life, human initiative, human thought, the independence of the human spirit. It is a good book for doctrinaire liberals to read. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Basis of Philosophy

Out of that theory are an entire philosophy of political economy and social action, which completely characterizes the modern faith, namely, that Virtue is not based upon moral law but upon economic necessity. For moral law, the will of the state for, as they would put it, the democratic, meaning the Communist party, is substituted.

Obviously, a man can teach all this and not be morally subversive. He may never say a word about overthrowing our government by revolution. He does not need to. He destroys the foundations of a moral society by teaching that there can be no moral society that man is not a moral being but a being whose nature is conditioned by his environment. If man is not a moral being, then there is no right or wrong. Only the necessities may, from our standpoint, be criminal, as Russia's have been in Poland, for instance.

If either the Fuld or the Wilson decisions are permitted to stand, it becomes possible for any teacher to poison the minds of our children, particularly as the law forbids teaching the opposite because the opposite is religion. In a word, a man cannot be dismissed from our schools for teaching Marxist dialectics but he can be dismissed for teaching that there is no moral society that man is not a moral being but a being whose nature is conditioned by his environment. If man is not a moral being, then there is no right or wrong. Only the necessities may, from our standpoint, be criminal, as Russia's have been in Poland, for instance.

Danger in Decisions

I am sure that neither Judge Fuld nor Commissioner Wilson have even estimated the dangers of their decisions. Both assumed the same legalistic position, namely, that the Communist party is a legal organization in the state of New York and therefore any man has a legal right to be a Communist and that if a man says he is not one, that is sufficient evidence that he is not one, unless proved otherwise by usually unobtainable evidence.

These learned gentlemen apparently have no understanding of the revolution in ideas and life which is occurring throughout the world.

I would ask them to read Hal Leiman's "Russia's Europe." Leiman went to Europe for "PM" and "The Nation"—which marked him pretty well of center—but what he saw in Greece, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia apparently convinced him that "Soviet policy everywhere (with the tentative exception of Czechoslovakia) aimed at spoliation rather than cooperation, the fortifying of the Soviet. Economic and military arsenal rather than the strengthening of the subject peoples."

His book is the record of stomping upon human life, human initiative, human thought, the independence of the human spirit. It is a good book for doctrinaire liberals to read. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Basis of Peace With Russia

By Walter Lippmann

ANSWERING the question "Will there be war?", Winston Churchill said the other day that it was idle to reason or argue with the Communists.

It was, however, possible to deal with them on a fair realistic basis and in his experience, they would keep their bargains so long as it was in their interest to do so, which might, in this grave matter, be a long time, once things were settled.

He continued, "With all consideration of the facts, I believe it right to say today that the best chance of avoiding war is, in accord with other western democracies, to bring matters to a head with the Soviet government and by formal diplomatic processes, with all their privacy and gravity, to arrive at a lasting settlement."

"There is certainly enough for the interests of all if such a settlement could be reached. Even this method, I must say, however, would not guarantee that war would not come, but I believe it would give the best chance of preventing it, and that if it came we should have the best chance of coming out of it alive."

Not nearly enough attention has been given to this speech.

Churchill was not speaking, he said, on these matters on the spur of the moment but with a steady stream of thought which he had followed and pursued with a study and experience of these matters over many years.

We may add that he was speaking with authority. On the subject of war and peace no man of our epoch speaks with comparable authority, and while Churchill, like other men, has not been infallible, on the greatest issues he has been the truest prophet of our age.

His conclusion that matters can and should be brought to a head with the Soviet government in order to arrive at a settlement is news of the very first importance.

If we ask ourselves, then, how

HANGS BY HEELS TO RESCUE GIRL

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—A 21-year-old girl was rescued yesterday by an Army veteran who hung by his heels and pulled her to safety from an automobile which dangled by one wheel 50 feet above the tracks of the Suburban Shaker Heights rapid transit.

The man, Hercules Latimer, 40, stepped from a bus shortly after the car in which Miss Rosemary K. O'Malley and five others were riding went over a curb, ripped through a steel fence guarding the drop to the transit tracks and, with only a rear wheel caught by a post, hung downward. Police said the driver had swerved to avoid hitting another vehicle at the intersection of Woodhill and Buckeye Roads S. E.

The driver and two other men, and two of the three girls in the automobile climbed out and made their way upward to the sidewalk.

Miss O'Malley, however, was pinned in the front seat by cushions and screamed for help.

"I wondered why no one was helping her, so I told them to hold me by the heels," related Latimer, "and I just hung down beside the car, freed her and then pulled her from the front seat and handed her to those above."

Latimer said he was enroute home with some medicine for his brother, fell asleep on the bus and got off at the wrong stop. "I don't know how I was supposed to get off where I did," he remarked afterwards. "I lost my hat, between $12 and $15 and the medicine."

Latimer, who served five years in the Army, mostly in the Mediterranean and European theaters, said he thought it was his week in the medical corps "that made me do what I did."

He said he told Miss O'Malley afterwards: "Don't thank me just do someone else a good deed some time."

STOLEN BABY BACK, GIRL, 17, IS HELD

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 2.—There was no bitterness, only tears, as a 17-year-old girl returned to a sobbing mother the six-month-old baby boy she had taken from a parked automobile 24 hours before.

"I'm sorry. I knew it was wrong to take him (but) I felt sorry for him there alone in the car, crying," Mrs. Dorothy Parker, a childless child-bride of two years, told the mother. She added that she lost a baby a year ago; couldn't have another.

"I said I wouldn't prosecute anybody that brought my baby back and I won't," replied the mother, Mrs. Louis B. Anders, 27. She and her husband were dancing when their son was taken from their car, parked outside, Saturday night.

Sheriff Bert Strand said because of Mrs. Parker's age she would be placed in the juvenile detention home pending investigation. The girl said she does not know where her estranged husband is and that her parents are on a trip somewhere in Texas.

CHILD DIES IN FIRE

CANTON, O., Feb. 2.—An explosion and fire destroyed a home, killed a child and injured three persons at 2250 Haltner Ave., N. W., yesterday. Dead was Sharon Ann Ross, 18-month-old daughter of Mrs. Ruth Ross, who was injured. Others hospitalized were Marion Vernier, 27, of Louisville, and Mrs. Ida Vernesdale, Mrs. Ross' grandmother. Cause of the blast was undetermined.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Joe Martin is cool to the suggestion that he take a wife. ... It's only recently that he became speaker of the house and he likes it that way.

I understand Joe said, "I am speaker of the house and few married men can make that statement."

A clergyman suggested that Joe become husband and President. ... Evidently a man who never had heard of double jeopardy.

Actually Rep. Martin might look more attractive to the voters as a single man. ... All those rooms in the White House would become vacant.

Helicopter Rescues 3 Trapped on Ice Floe

ANGOLA, N. Y., Feb. 2.—Three fishermen were picked off a Lake Erie ice floe by a helicopter yesterday after 21 hours on the lake in temperatures estimated down to 15 below zero.

William Stevenson, Jr., 71, Miles Reynolds, 35, and George Kellner, 39, suffered about noon Saturday and rescued before dawn yesterday.

Newspaper flares led to their discovery. It was the first such helicopter maneuver in darkness in four years of ice rescues. Floyd Carlson of the Bell Aircraft Corp. piloted the craft.

Vows Exchanged By Couple In Church Wedding

MISS Dorothy Leone Washburn became the bride of Quentin Shelby Walker in a ceremony held Friday evening in the First Evangelical and Reformed church. The pastor, Rev. E. H. Wierth, read the double ring service at 8:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. C. E. Molam of 124 Barnhart street and F. A. Washburn of Harding Highway West, and Mr. Walker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom P. Walker of 205 Lake street.

For the wedding Miss Washburn chose a gingham suit in a maize shade with which she combined brown accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of white carnations and she wore the bride's gift of a pair of gold earrings. For the traditional something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to her maternal great-grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Vestal were the attendants. Mrs. Vestal was costumed in a brown gingham suit with beige accessories, and her flowers were a corsage of yellow roses. Also attending the ceremony were Miss Grace Johnson and Bert Cottrill.

The bride's gift to her attendant was a pair of silver earrings and Mr. Walker presented his best man with a silver tie clasp. Upon their return from a short wedding trip the couple will make their home at 573 Universal avenue.

Mrs. Walker is employed in the office of the Sinclair Refining Co. Products Pipe Line department. Mr. Walker served eight years in the U. S. Navy and Merchant Marines and is employed with the Borden Dairy & Ice Cream Co.

GIVES BOOK REVIEW

The review was sponsored by members of St. Cecilia's guild of which Miss Una Ackley is president. Miss Kathleen Thomas served as ticket chairman.

Fire Damages Student "Hang-Out" at O.S.U.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—Larry's Grill on North High street, a popular "hang-out" of Ohio State University students, was damaged by fire about 2 a. m. today. Fourteen families in apartments above the tavern were forced into the street in near-zero temperature.

L. J. Paoletti, owner of the grill, said the loss would be "several thousand dollars."

Joe E. Howard Taken To Hospital: Is Recovering

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 2.—Joe E. Howard, who wrote many songs glorifying the Gay Nineties and still sings them, was down in a hospital bed today but far from out.

The 82-year-old Howard, whose "Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" has had a great comeback, was knocked down by an automobile yesterday as he crossed a busy boulevard. He suffered cerebral concussion, lacerations and bruises and was unconscious when taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

Joe recovered fast, however, and soon was serenading some of his nurses, who said he was "so spry we can't keep him still."

lore and cannot be denied his one day in the sun—or out of it.

Awakening a Mystery

No one knows just what the groundhog uses for an alarm clock to awaken him on this particular day, but nonetheless he comes out of his burrow, circles around, until he makes certain he is or is not casting a shadow.

Probably nowhere in the United States is the groundhog and his day held in more esteem than in the region of Punxsutawney, Pa., where a pilgrimage is made every Feb. 2 to a high hilltop to observe the animal in his annual debut.

Reports of these forays vary, depending a great deal on the extent to which the exploring party is subjected to snow blindness.

So to make absolutely certain their own eyes have not deceived them, a call is made to the weatherman who, still with his tongue in his cheek, answers the question before it is asked:

"The groundhog saw his shadow. See you March 20."

NEW YORK LOSES ITS "OFFICIAL" GROUNDHOG

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—There'll be not "official" groundhog watching here today because the civic groundhog has died of old age and the severe cold has driven the live ones too far underground.

New Yorkers will have to watch their own shadows or use other means of predicting how long winter will last.

The deceased pet of the Kips Bay Boys club was used for many years to determine whether he saw his shadow on Feb. 2, thereby forecasting six more weeks of winter.

G. Dana Younger, the club's executive secretary, says the boys haven't been able to get another because the cold weather has caused the animals to "hole up so deep."

Mr. Sechurn stated, in view of the cold weather coming tonight.

Cold Headed South

Another "extremely cold" wave surged southward through the upper Midwest today as the chilled eastern half of the country eyed the antics of the Groundhog for his legendary long range weather forecast. The Associated Press reported.

In most of the eastern half of the nation where an estimated 250,000 workers have been made idle because of gas and other fuel shortages in industry, the week-long cold wave was broken, the weather bureau said.

Somewhat warmer weather was in prospect today in both the east and south.

"Leveling Off" Indicated

In eastern states generally, the temperature was expected to climb to freezing or above as the worst of the frigid blast moved out to sea.

Although a large area of the South was colder early today than the North Central states, a leveling off was in prospect there also.

The latest cold wave moved across the Canadian line in the Dakotas and Minnesota last night and had brought a minimum of 15 below zero to Grand Forks, N. D. At Minneapolis the mercury slid down from 14 above last night to -3 at 4 a. m.

Liquor Stores Closed

The state liquor department at Columbus said an estimated 50 liquor stores heated by gas would remain closed until the gas emergency ended.

Besides six stores in Columbus and four in Toledo, the list includes the stores serving these other communities:

Bucyrus, Bowling Green, Cambridge, Delaware, Fremont, Logan, Gallipolis, Jackson, Potosi, Mansfield, Marion, Millersburg, Newark, Maumee, Mount Vernon, Medina, Parma, Pomeroy and Shelby.

HOME NEAR IBERIA DESTROYED BY FIRE

Special to 'The Star'

IBERIA, Feb. 2.—An overheated furnace was blamed for a fire which Sunday afternoon destroyed the two-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thatcher on the Iberia road one mile south of Iberia village.

The blaze was discovered by the Thatcher family when they returned around 2 o'clock from a visit with Mrs. Thatcher's mother, Mrs. Margaret Lepp of the Boundary road near Edison. A group of about 20 volunteer firefighters from Iberia rushed to the scene and helped to save a number of out-buildings. Only effects saved from the fire was a cedar chest and a washing machine. A pet Pomeranian dog perished in the flames. The loss was estimated by the family at about $10,000, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher and a daughter Ruth Ann, at home, are residing temporarily with Mrs. Thatcher's sister and husband, Mr. Thatcher's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stoneburner, who live nearby. The Thatchers have two daughters married. Mr. Thatcher is a member of the Morrow county fair board.

2 Fires in Marion Blamed on Weather

Two fires reported in Marion over the weekend were laid to bad weather. The first occurred at 5:40 p. m. Saturday at the home of C. A. Leonhardt, 343 Commercial street where a gas water heater flared up because of irregular gas pressure. Firemen from Mark street station who answered the alarm reported slight damage.

At 4:05 p. m. Sunday an over-

Squirrel Runs Riot In Home at Shelby

By The Associated Press

SHELBY, O., Feb. 2.—Four-gashes in window sills, damaged photographs and recreational equipment were found by Orin Pfahler when he returned home last night.

Police theorized someone entered with a key and caused the mess.

After they left, Pfahler discovered a large fox squirrel in the attic.

Police, called a second squirrel into the house via the garage and created the damage while seeking an exit.

Pfahler said he believed the squirrel got into the house via the garage and created the damage while seeking an exit.

RECALLS CIVIL WAR

On her 96th birthday, Mrs. Josephine Davis, Washington, D. C., recalls Civil War days when her father and brothers marched to battle from their Surry county, N. C. home. She remembers, too, how four years later they struggled home after Lee's surrender. "The Yankees scared me to death," she says. Mrs. Davis is the mother of 7 children, 19 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

Timken Executive Sees Drop in Business
By The Associated Press
CANTON, O., Feb. 2 — Vice President L. M. Klinefelter of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. believes the company's 1948 volume of business might be at least 10 or 15 per cent less than last year. Addressing Timken employees in a radio talk yesterday, Klinefelter said business dropped off during the last six months of last year and "there is no evidence that 1948 will be better."
The Timken executive explained business had dropped because customers' backlog orders now were filled and because many customers were faced with material shortages.

DENIED LICENSE, MAN KILLS THREE AND SELF

By The Associated Press

DULUTH, Minn., Feb. 2—Angered when his request for a beer tavern license was rejected, Joe A. Conlan, 32-year-old Minnesota Crossroads Community storekeeper, shot and killed three members of the Elmer, Minn., town board, wounded a fourth member, and then committed suicide. The first member of the board, Albert Bernsdorf, 35, fifth board member who expired, said Sheriff Sam Owens of St. Louis county, Conlan previously had threatened he would "quit" the board if "I don't get a license" but none fleeing amid the shooting, escaped of the board members had taken the threat seriously. Bernsdorf, who owns the only bank.

The shooting took place Saturday as the board concluded a hearing on the slacker's license application.

Slain were Frank Swoboda, 35, township clerk; Emil Maska, 35, board chairman; Albert Dupes, 65, Louis Rinschwer, 53, who was in serious condition at Hibbing, Minn. General hospital.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

AP Newsfeatures

ELIZ KREISLER, born Feb. 2, 1901, might have been a violinist, might have been a pianist, might have been a composer, might have been a conductor, might have been a virtuoso, might have been a genius. But she was a woman, and she was a mother, and she was a wife, and she was a friend, and she was a neighbor, and she was a citizen, and she was a human being. And she was a woman who loved music, and she loved to play it, and she loved to hear it, and she loved to live it. And she was a woman who loved to live for others, and she loved to give, and she loved to share, and she loved to love. And she was a woman who loved to live, and she loved to love, and she loved to live for others, and she loved to give, and she loved to share, and she loved to love.

Roving Reports

NEW YORK

ONCE upon a time in Flatbush there were two acorns. One was a good little acorn, and the other was a bad little acorn. Both had fallen from the same tree, and were talking over life and its problems, just like a couple of Vassar sophomores.

"I want to be a big tree just like dad," said the good little acorn, who was ambitious.

"I don't," said the bad little acorn. "What kind of a life is that? You just grow and grow—and end up in the same place."

"Don't you want to feel the wind lift your leaves? Don't you want to wear a nest of robins in your hair?" asked Little Acorn G (for good).

"I don't want to be no bungle for birds—that's for sure," said Little Acorn B (for bad).

"And what do I want leaves for? I wish men had married a pine tree. It's much rather have needles."

Their conversation was interrupted by a squirrel who grabbed them and carried them into the wood.

"Leggo me, you big frazzle-tailed rat!" whined the bad acorn, and the good acorn murmured, "oh, dear, oh, dear."

The squirrel halted, dug a small hole with his paws, tumbled in the two confused acorns, then covered them with earth.

"Oh, oh, what shall we do?" cried Acorn G.

"Grab the next subway, stupid," barked Acorn B. "What do you want to do—stay here and be the tree that grows in Brooklyn?"

"I wouldn't mind," simpered the good acorn. Weeks later she whispered suddenly:

"Sister, I've got roots. I can get them."

"What do you think I've got—bums?" snarled the bad acorn.

The good little acorn stretched and pushed and strained until her head struggled into the open air.

"I'm out! I'm out!" she cried, "please grow too, little sister."

"What kind of a day is it?" asked the bad acorn.

"Rainy."

"The hell with it. I'm going to stay here in bed."

And the bad acorn did just that.

The good little acorn grew mighty and one sunny day a miracle unfolded—her first leaf.

TREMULOUSLY SHE PASSED the exciting news down to her sister.

"What's so wonderful about that?" crabbled the bad acorn. "Oak trees have been having leaves for years. Grow an orange and I'll get you three weeks in vaudeville."

Just then two park workers came by.

"Hey, Holman," said one, "looka dink oak sprout growin' right here under a flower bed. Wotta noice!"

"Don't bodda withya oak trees. If yah don't wannat give lidda oil heave-ho."

The worker grabbed the shuddering little sapling, tore it from the earth and cast it into a rubbish box.

HE ALSO HAD DISLODGED the bad little acorn, which lay blinking in the bright sunlight.

"Turn off the lights, I'll talk," she quipped, with never a thought for the sad fate of her sister.

But her bravado turned to terror when she saw a squirrel approaching—the same rough character who had buried the two acorns the previous autumn.

"Get away from me, you scissor-billed—"

"She started to say. Then the squirrel popped her into his mouth and crunched down hard.

"Plugh!" granted the squirrel a moment later, spitting out the shell of the bad little acorn. "Rotten clear through!"

Moral: It's hard to know when to come out of your shell."

Plunges To Death

From Toledo Church

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 2 — A 21-year-old woman attended services in St. Francis De Sales Catholic church yesterday and then plunged to death from the 120-foot steeple overlooking downtown Toledo.

Coroner Paul Hehly identified her as Miss Eleanor A. Bodette. He returned a suicide verdict.

She climbed four steep ladders, each between 15 and 30 feet high, before pushing open a heavy trapdoor opening onto the steeple. The plunge occurred during continuous Rosary services in the church. Worshippers were unaware of the tragedy.

Trainman Killed In Iowa City Rail Crash

By The Associated Press

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 2 — A Rocket Island Rocky Mountain Rocket, westbound from Chicago to Denver, plowed into a freight train less than a block from the station here last night, killing a trainman and injuring a score of passengers.

The trainman was Clifford H. Hull, 31, conductor of the freight train. His body was found in the wreckage.

The Rocket was carrying 100 to 150 University of Iowa students returning to the campus. Eight were injured, none seriously.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

THERE was no one in the Underwood living room when my father walked with me into it. Dicky and Harry Underwood close behind us. Instantly I looked around for Lillian, and then remembered that Harry had said she was "parked in the library with Exhibit A."

My father put me into a big chair, took one opposite, and motioned Dicky and Harry to seats near by. Then he shot a concerned question at me.

"You are all right?" he queried. "That must have been an unnerving experience with those thugs."

I gave him a grateful smile for his unwavering solicitude for me.

"I had very little of the experience," I said. "I was an on-looker only. Dicky and Mr. 'K' attended to everything."

"You mean 'K' did," Dicky disclaimed. "He was the lad who, single-handed, kept those babies on their good behavior until I happened to amble along to help him."

"I know your 'ambling alone,' son of old," my father said with an affectionate glance at him.

"And, my dear daughter, please accept my congratulations and thanks for your brilliant performance tonight."

"You ought to know how much I enjoy doing anything to help you," I said.

"I am afraid I call on you too often, counting on that," he said, and then in an instant, he was no longer my dearest parent, but "the Chief," and mentally I added, "on the war path."

"I suppose 'K' told you why I wanted you to get those things from Olga," he said. "Of course you have them."

"Safely fastened inside my gown," I told him. "I'll step into another room and get them out. I'm afraid I'll have to take my gown off in order to get them out safely."

"You must have done a thorough job," he said smiling at me. "But the packet can wait a little. Tell me, what is your reaction to 'K's' news?"

"He didn't give us any," I said. "He said to tell you that because of the necessity of getting those men away quickly, he didn't have time to tell me anything."

"Yes, yes, of course," he said. "The plan for getting them away went smoothly?"

"Oh, yes," I told him. "There wasn't a single hitch. No one saw us leave the Lansfield, and there was no one on the street when the two armored cars left. Mr. 'K' asked me to tell you that as soon as he had deposited the men safely in the hideaway, he would come directly back up here."

"And Joe, the demon driver who whirled us up here," Dicky said, "asked Madge to tell you that he'd be waiting where you said. Please forgive the interruption, but I thought you ought to have that information as soon as possible."

"You're right, son," my father said, "and I thank you. One question. How long did it take Joe to bring you over here?"

"It seemed to me about forty-five seconds," Dicky said with a reminiscent grin, "but it really was about twelve minutes."

My father looked at his wrist watch, and half closed his eyes.

"The other man isn't as dazed as a driver as Joe," he said, "and the distance is longer. But 'K' ought to be back here inside of forty minutes. That will be all right. Now, Margaret, if you will please get that packet for me, I shall be grateful."

Another Improvement in Our Effort To Serve You!

We are proud of the many wonderful comments we have received upon the easy riding qualities of our New Superior Cadillac ambulance. In addition to the extra long springs on the ambulance itself, the invalid cot has springs and a soft mattress.

The name Cadillac assures its quality and a riding comfort. Add to that the value of experience and care in handling patients. These give all the reasons you need for calling us when Ambulance service is needed.

This new ambulance is in keeping with what Marion families have come to expect from the Hughes Funeral Home. It began with the opening of a fine home-like place to hold funerals. It continued with the addition of year round air conditioning . . . then the church-like atmosphere of our Everett Organ.

One might expect that all these things would increase the cost of service here. It hasn't worked out that way. Personal service and careful management have kept our costs below the average. You only get more for your money.

SOUTHERN COLLEGE TO ACCEPT NEGROES

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, Del., Feb. 2.—In the "first such action taken by a southern university" the University of Delaware's board of trustees have cleared the way for the admission of Negro residents of Delaware with accepted academic standard.

Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the university with 2,000 students, said yesterday that under the board's ruling Negroes will be permitted for the first time to sit side by side with white students.

Dr. Carlson pointed out, however, that the ruling does not open the way for the admission of any Negro student. The board, he said, decided to permit Negroes to enroll at Delaware in courses not provided by the Delaware State College for Negroes at Dover, Del.

The board's ruling covers only bona fide residents of Delaware and no provision was made for the admission of Negro students not living in the state.

Four Still Missing

As Country Club Burns

By The Associated Press

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 2.—Four persons are still missing after fire burned the Carolina Country club to its foundation early Sunday.

The charred body of Mrs. James E. Baker, wife of the club's manager and steward, was identified last night. Still to be accounted for are her husband, James, 40, their two children, James Jr., 14, and Jean, 16, and Mrs. Baker's mother, Mrs. Carrie E. Lyndall of Norfolk, Va.

Remains of what are believed to be parts of the missing four have been recovered from the ruins but have not been positively identified.

Firemen were delayed from reaching the grounds of the fashionable club by a blinding snowstorm.

STEPHEN YOUNG TO RUN

for many months and years, especially the past few months.

"If we are to serve the cause that Gandhi put before us we have to face this atmosphere of combat, struggle against it and root out this evil of hatred and violence from the country and from our individual selves."

No Effort Spared

"I assure you on behalf of the government of India that we will spare no means, no effort to do that. If we don't do that we are not worth being in this government."

Declaring again his personal shame for failure to save Gandhi's life, the prime minister, who was one of the slain man's closest associates, declared:

"It is a shame to me as an Indian that an Indian raised a hand against him. It is a shame to me as a Hindu that a Hindu should have done it to the greatest Indian of the day and the greatest Hindu of the age."

Earlier, at the services beside the Juma, a throng of 5,000 watched quietly as the ashes were sifted carefully. One object sifted out was handed to Nehru. Witnesses speculated that it might have been one of the bullets which struck Gandhi down Friday night, but there was no explanation from anyone in position to know.

U. S., Italy Sign New Commercial Treaty

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The United States and Italy signed today a new commercial treaty including a promise by each to allow "freedom of information."

That clause says Italians in the United States and Americans in Italy will be free to write, report and send news without censorship. It is the first time there has been such a clause in any American treaty with a European country.

The treaty replaces a pact of "Friendship, Commerce and Navigation" made in 1871 but set aside during Mussolini's regime.

In general, citizens of each country are granted equal rights in commercial and legal activities.

Social Worker Dies Of Deliberate Starvation

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—Miss Kathleen Lynch, 22, a Wellesley college graduate and a Boston social worker, "deliberately starved herself to death," a medical examiner's report said today.

Dr. Richard Ford, associate medical examiner, assessed Miss Lynch refused to eat enough during the past three years to sustain her bodily needs and died from "malnutrition."

Miss Lynch, daughter of Dr. Paul V. Lynch of Evansville, Ind., died in a Boston hospital Saturday.

Arthritis Pain Curbed Easy Way

Recent medical tests by a prominent Chicago physician prove that most people who suffer from stabbing or dull, nerve-racking pains in the back, hands, feet, arms, shoulders and neck, due to Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Neuralgia, or Sciatica can expect quick help from the remarkable medicine called Ramond.
Ramond is a tasteless internal medicine that usually works fast through the blood to help 3 ways: 1. First dose starts right to work curbing pain. 2. Helps nature remove poisonous excess acids and wastes from the system. 3. Helps you to work, sleep and enjoy life in greater comfort. So, if you have tried most everything without really satisfying relief, don't suffer another day without getting Ramond from your druggist. Satisfaction or money back guaranteed.

OVER $500 ADDED TO MARCH OF DIMES

Total Now $4,547 for Marion County.

Weekend contributions of more than $500 brought the total in the Marion County March of Dimes to $4,547.31, it was announced today by Virgil F. Dye, county chairman. When the money received in this morning's packets and other contributions were counted by firemen at the Central station, the figures totaled $506.18.

Saturday officially closed the campaign, but it is expected that other contributions will be received throughout the week. Dye said, County schools contributed $192.47 and there are still schools yet to report. Contributions received over the weekend included $2 from the Ye Papyrus club of Green Camp, $2 from the Marion Sorosis club, $15 from the Marion City Council of the P.T.A. and $5 from the Women's class of the Waldo Methodist church.

THE top two college basketball teams in the Ohio Conference—Capital and Ohio Wesleyan—meet at Delaware tomorrow in a struggle for the top spot in the league.

The Lutherans from Columbus have won eight and lost one conference game, while the Bishop have a four-one record. Toledo is the only other college in the 22-team circuit with only one loss, and they have played three games.

If the Bishop can knock off Capital, they stand a good chance of capturing the conference title from their initial entry into the loop.

The game will probably be decided by no more points than you can count on a hand.

Last year the two teams split—Capital winning on their court, 74-69, and Ohio Wesleyan on the Delaware floor, 52-50.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, the Bishop have been pointing for this game and the fact that it will be played at home may throw it their way.

The Delaware folk are rabid fans and are wont to express their displeasure at opponent scoring with occasional catcalls and the like, which sometimes helps throw a visiting team off stride.

BISHOP COACH Bob Strimer is counting heavily on Sherry Rowland to keep up the scoring pace he's setting—in nine games, the six-foot-four forward has counted 109 points and is "batting" .411.

Little wonder he can count—he's the son of Ohio Wesleyan's mathematics professor.

Close behind Sherry Rowland are a pair of fast five-foot-eight guards, Chuck Buttermore and Dick Taravella, who have meshed 98 and 97 points, and center Jack Thompson runs a close fourth with 92.

It'll be speed against height tonight in the top game of the first round finale in the City Vet league at the Army when the Bird-McGinnis Legion quelled faces the tall unbenet V.F.W. aggregation.

The fast Legion crew can gain a first-place tie with the V.F.W. if they win, while the V.F.W. engers have taken all four of their plays.

In other games in the Vet Loop, G.I. Post, American Legion, meet the AMVETS in the cellar and Navy club and Co. C, National Guard, meet for the middle honors, both with a .500 average.

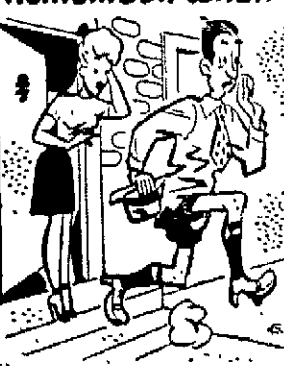

Tiffin Team Leads Women's Bowling Meet

TIFFIN, O., Feb. 2—The Pittsburgh Glass entry of Tiffin held the team leadership today after the third weekend of activity in the seventh annual Northern Ohio Women's Bowling Association tournament.

The home-town squad had a 2897 total, a margin of 169 pins over the Eagles No. 1 team of Salem, last week's pace-setter.

Mary Myk of Toledo was out in front in the singles division with a 627 total, a six-pin advantage over Thelma Cox of Mansfield.

Ohio College Cagers Launch Big 50-Game Spree This Week

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2—Mid-term exams concluded, Ohio college cagers launch their biggest spree of the season this week—a 50-game schedule studied with crucial contests.

Headlining the big series, Capital encounters Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware Tuesday night. The winner will grab the top spot in the unyielding 22-college Ohio Conference.

Capital, defending state and conference champ, holds first place with eight wins and a one-point lead to Muskingum.

The Bowling Bishop have won four of five for the second spot.

Second place in the statewide lineup also will be in the balance Tuesday when Bowling Green (17-3) invades Cincinnati for a tilt with ever-dangerous Xavier.

Ohio State gets two chances to improve its last-place Western Conference standing, entertaining Michigan tonight and traveling to Minnesota Saturday.

Twenty-two games are with out-of-state foes, a dozen being booked for the Buckeye floors.

Interstate play, Ohio squads have won 100 games and dropped 75.

Fourteen Ohio Conference games, and four in the Mid-American loop also are on the week's list, but the big independents also face some hot action.

Xavier meets unpredictable Ohio U. tonight, Bowling Green tomorrow and a rugged Chicago Loyola squad Saturday.

Green has a Wednesday night date with Western Kentucky and a Friday clash with Dayton.

A game which Kent State lost to Mount Union Dec. 31 in a round robin tourney at Youngstown went back into the records this week, when Ohio Conference Commissioner George Daniel denied having ruled it an exhibition.

The loop does not recognize championships, Daniel said, explaining that all games played by conference foes should be included in the "interesting athletic statistics" compiled by the newspapers, but not recognized by the conference.

Mount Union, besides the 51-38 win over Kent in the round-robin, tacked another 35-33 defeat on the Flashers last week, dropping them from the league's unbeaten list.

The two rivals meet again tomorrow night at Kent.

Pirates Sign Scout,

2 Rookie Pitchers

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2—The Pittsburgh Pirates reported today they signed Bill Posedel as a scout and received signed contracts from two young pitchers, Jim Kieckley and Jimmy Walsh.

Kieckley played last year at Spartansburg (S.C.) of the Tri-State league. Walsh was on the roster of three clubs, Indianapolis of the American Association, York (Pa.) of the Interstate league and Albany (N.Y.) of the Eastern league.

Posedel is a former National league pitcher, having played with Boston and Brooklyn.

SAUER NAMED NAVY FOOTBALL MENTOR

By The Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 2—George Sauer, who piloted Kansas today in unofficial Olympic winter games, has been named a four-year past to coach Navy.

He will be Navy's first civilian coach in 15 campaigns.

His appointment was announced here and at Kansas Saturday night. No financial terms were disclosed, but he said it was an opportunity "I can't pass up."

Sauer was paid $10,000 a year at Kansas.

MT. GILEAD NITEHAWKS

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Feb. 2—Ohio State university's undefeated junior varsity basketball team continued its winning ways at the expense of Nite College here Saturday night, 78 to 42.

Taking advantage of their four-inch height average over the Nitehaws, the Buckeyes tipped in three baskets before Garold Davis scored from the foul line for the first Mt. Gilead point.

The Buckeyes took a 18 to 9 lead the first quarter and enlarged it to a 36 to 18 advantage at half time.

Mario Giacomelli, who was all-state when he played with the Yorkville Class B state champs of three years ago, was outstanding on the pivot but it fell to Chuck Worthley to take high point honors for the evening with fourteen points.

Ohio State lead all the way, and there was little doubt about the outcome of the game, even though the Nitehaws battled right up to the end of the game.

Wednesday night Bliss College will play Nite College on the Mt. Gilead high school gym.

Timing Olympic Skiers

By The Associated Press

ST. MORITZ, SWITZERLAND—This is the type of precision timing device used in the Winter Olympics here. It came in handy for the tricky slalom event.

At the start, the skier breaks through a silk cord automatically starting the sweep second hand of the chronometer. At the finish the skier cuts a light beam of a photo-electric cell to stop the chronograph. Thus the races are timed with the speed of light—a speed of 180,000 miles per second.

Gil Dodds' Hot Pace Brings America Hope For Win in Olympic Metric Mile

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 2—If Gilbert Dodds continues his record-shattering pace, the United States may have a chance against the Swedes in the Olympic 1,500 meters this year after all.

It's been 40 years since an American captured the so-called metric mile in Olympic competition. The last to turn the trick was Mel Sheppard, who won both the 800 and 1,500 meter runs in 1908.

Since then, American milers have taken a back seat in the Olympic 1,500 meters, while A.N.S. Jackson and A. G. Hill of Britain, Paavo Nurmi and H. E. Larva of Finland, Luigi Beccali of Italy and Jack Lovelock of New Zealand sped to victory.

But Dodds showed 15,000 screaming fans in Madison Square Garden Saturday night that he is in for his greatest year by winning the Wanamaker mile at the Millrose games. His 4:05.3 was the fastest competitive time for the distance ever run by an American.

Although it was only his second start this season, Galloping Gilbert wiped out his own world indoor record of 4:06.4, set in the Bankers mile at the Chicago relays in 1944.

He also tied the American outdoor record established by Gunder Hagg of Sweden at Harvard in 1943.

Dodds won by 70 yards to hang up his 25th straight indoor victory, and 20th at the distance since his last defeat in 1943.

His spectacular triumph made him the unanimous choice of the 11-man committee of sports writers for the Rodman Wanamaker international trophy, given for the meet's outstanding performance.

"Lockman had not been hurt," he mused. "Lockman, you know, was that flashy young outfielder who broke a leg during a spring exhibition game and couldn't play all season. He still limps but says he feels no pain and will be okay after a winter's rest."

"Lockman was playing center field and Clint Hartung left," Ott went on. "They seemed to have a line drawn somewhere in left center. Whitey would take everything over to it and Hartung was catching everything that came his way. . . . Bobby Thompson was playing second base and looking better every day at a post which, as he said, the only time I ever saw it was running by it."

"We might have been right up in the pennant race with that combination. . . . Well, Lockman didn't play, Thompson became a darn good center fielder and Hartung, who couldn't catch flies in a big league park, turned into a pretty good pitcher. . . . What it proves, this dept. doesn't know."

OTTIE ALSO was responsible for one of the best descriptions of the week in discussing rookie Don Mueller, whose dad played for the Pirates some 25 years ago. "Don has hit .350 or .360 in every league he has been in. Every time he hits a line drive he thinks it should be a base hit. But he plays the outfield the same way when the other fellow hits one."

WIN BOY SCOUT GAMES
Boy Scout Troop 29 defeated Troop 4, 30-27, Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. In the second game the Troop 4 reserves won 49-26. Both troops are sponsored by the Trinity Baptist church with Gene Martin as scoutmaster.

A total of 10,133 tickets were sold during the season.

NORWAY TAKES LEAD Golden Glove Entries Top 50 IN WINTER OLYMPICS As March Tournament Nears

U. S. Outclassed in Speed Skating, Downhill Skiing.

By The Associated Press

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 2—Norway swept in front of Sweden today in unofficial Olympic winter games, standing ahead of Sweden 12-10.

The 12-10 victory was a 12-10 meter (metric mile) speed skating championship in record-setting time of 55 minutes, 17.8 seconds.

The United States expected to rally in this event, posted up only one point when Johnny Weikel of Minneapolis finished sixth in 2:02.2. America's were completely out of the picture in the downhill skiing competition, the other main event in the morning program.

Henri Oreiller of France won the second Olympic gold medal of time today when Franz Griebel field in the 10-km. downhill ski race. His time was two minutes, 55 seconds.

Austria also scored for the first time today when Franz Goble placed second in the 5-km. race. Sweden won its first hockey game by defeating Austria, 7-1. It was Austria's fourth straight setback.

ST. MARY, PLEASANT MEET TOMORROW

Irish Risk 8-Game Win Streak with County Champs.

ST. MARY'S basketball squad tangles with the county champion Pleasant cagers, holder of 11 straight league victories, tomorrow night at Edison gym in a non-league contest that promises to be a thriller.

Pleasant, with the loop championship already tucked away, will be out to fatten her victory column at the expense of the Irish who will have an eight-game win streak at stake.

Charles Mayers, one of the high scorers in the county league, finished out county competition with 24 points in the 11 games.

Pleasant's cagers took the title in a close game with Morral by a 36-34 score.

"St. Mary now has 13 victories to her credit out of 16 starts, and the Irish continue to get smoother with each game.

Columbus St. Mary was the latest victim to fall under the attack of the St. Mary floormen.

The Irish got by unlucky No. 13 in convincing fashion Friday night when they ran up their highest game total of the season, winning by a 68-39 count.

The Pleasant hoopers, paced by Mayers who has a 19-point average per game, will come here with all the confidence of a winning team, and although "Pleasant" may prove to be mighty disagreeable to the "Merry" Irish.

Game time is 7:30 p. m.

2 NORTH CAROLINIANS WIN TUCSON TOURNNEY

By The Associated Press

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 2—A pair of North Carolinians who came through in a pinch, Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Mid-Pines, and John Palmer, Baden, are heading eastward today with first and second prize money of the $10,000 Tucson open tucked in their slacks.

After a dismal over-par third round Saturday, Alexander came back yesterday with an eight-under-par 62 to tie the course record for 18 holes and equal the 72-hole mark of 264. He collected $2,000.

Palmer equalled the 62 record set by Herman Keiser, Akron, O., to get back in a contending position at the start of the final 18 holes. Two strokes behind pace-setting Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, he ripped the easy El Rio course apart in the final nine holes to score four birdies, earn a total of 265 and $1,400.

The Caledonia Reserves won, 21-20.
